

Open Water SCUBA Certification:

The open water course provides the foundational skills that will be essential throughout your diving career. Your course will begin with a brief orientation where we'll discuss the format of the course, the gear you'll use and it will be a time for us to get to know each other a bit better. We use materials developed by and issue certifications through SCUBA Diving International (SDI). Our small class sizes allow us to tailor your courses to meet your needs.

The balance of the course is divided into three sections: Academic Knowledge, Confined Water (pool) Training, and Open Water Dives. Academic Knowledge can be completed either in a traditional lecture format or through the online training system. The online system allows students to learn at their own pace with a review of essential information and clarification of specific areas of confusion by the instructor during an academic session. These sessions will be scheduled to fit student schedules and meet student needs.

The confined water sessions provide students with an opportunity to learn and practice essential diving skills in a controlled environment. Students will have the opportunity to practice their buoyancy, become familiar with their equipment, develop proper buddy communication, and practice essential emergency skills. Although scheduling is a bit more restricted due to pool availability we will schedule these to fit your schedule.

Finally, we will head to the ocean. We will meet at a local dive site to complete at least four open water dives over the course of at least 2 days. During these dives students have an opportunity to demonstrate mastery of the skills learned in the confined water sessions while exploring a local dive site.
